FRANCE TODAY ORDERS ENTIRE ARMY AND RESERVES MOBILIZED

PREPARES FOR WAR AFTER CONFER- ENCES OF FRENCH PREMIER AND GERMAN AMBASSADOR FAIL.

PEOPLE WILDLY CHEER ORDER

Premier Tells German Representative
France Must Stand by Her Ally,
Russia, in Crisis.

GERMAN TO GET PASSPORTS

American Tourists Are Warned to Seek Refuge in England and Germans May be Arrested as Spies

(By United Press.)

Paris, August 1.—The foreign office this evening issued a general order for the mobilization of the entire French army and reserves for Sunday. The order is taken to indicate that two conferences held today between Premier Viviana and the German ambassador failed. The premier is understood to have told the ambassador that France must, under her treaty, stand by Russia, her ally.

News of the order quickly spread and as officers arrived they were cheered by the crowd.

The boulevard went wild today when huge posters announcing mobilization were placed at points of vantage on principal thoroughfares.

The German ambassador probably will demand his passports and leave tonight. An order probably will be issued immediately setting a time limit within which all Germans must leave France on penalty of arrest as spies.

This action followed desperate attempts to prevent war. The premier and ambassador conferred and France gave Germany word that France must protect her own interests. Germany would not accept this reply and the ambassador demanded another audience. This also failed.

The climax of street enthusiasm came when a great dirigible swept across the sky just above the city. The crowd rushed to the middle of the street, and wildly cheering, followed. Men and women alike embraced each other with patriotic fervor.

The American embassy has been jammed all day with tourists who have been advised to hurry to England. Ambassador Herrick is aiding them. He has increased his clerical force and will remain in the city indefinitely.

BREAKS WITH RUSSIA TODAY

Russian Ambassador Will Leave
Berlin Reported Today.

(By United Press.)

London, August 1.—Russia and Germany have broken. Persistent reports state that diplomatic relations between these countries were severed at noon today and that the German ambassador to St. Petersburg has demanded his passports and started for the frontier. The German foreign office admitted this. The United States will be asked to serve for these countries and France.

Under secretaries and attaches of the French, German and Russian embassies left London today, returning home to join their regiments.

Great Britain's tentative war plans were completed today when the cabinet ended its two and a half hour session.

MAY BE FORCED TO JOIN ALLIES

England Still Hesitates About War
Move Though France Has Called Army to Colors.

IS URGED TO WARN GERMANY

(By United Press.)

London, August 1.—England still hesitates though France has called her reserves to the colors. France will join forces with Russia against Germany. England has been urged to warn Germany that her war fleet is ready for action and that she too will fight unless the Kaiser backs down. While the British government has not done so, and King George is still striving to get the Kaiser and the Czar to agree to some plan that will avert the almost certain catastrophe, it is believed certain that she will be forced to join with her treaty allies.

EUROPEAN PEACE HINGES ON ENGLAND

If She Warns Germany Her Navy is Prepared to Strike, There
Will be no War.

STATEMENT OF AMBASSADOR

(By United Press.)

London, August 1.—The issue of war or peace hinges on England's position. In a statement to the United Press the French ambassador tonight said:

"Everything now depends on England. If she will inform Germany that her navy is prepared to strike, there may be no war. Otherwise the situation is hopeless."

The ambassador added that he had received information from Paris that unless the situation changes for the better, the German ambassador to France will abandon his post tonight.

ARE CHIEF CARD OF PEACE ADVOCATES

Banking Interests, if They Oppose
General War, it Will Not Take Place, it is Said.

AGAINST IT AT THIS TIME

(By United Press.)

London, August 1.—The powerful financial interests both here and on the continent are trying every possible means to prevent a general war.

BULLETIN

(By United Press.)

Paris, August 1.—England this evening threw her fortunes with France and Russia. British ambassador called at Elysee palace and assured the president England is prepared to stand by her treaties. This places the burden of an armed attack surely up to the Kaiser.

BUGGY DEMOLISHED BY AN AUTOMOBILE

Mr. and Mrs. Resin Roberts and Child of West of Milroy Have Remarkable Escape from Injury

ACCIDENT ON STEEP GRADE

Resin Roberts, living west of Milroy, was painfully hurt last night about nine o'clock when the buggy in which he, his wife and little child were riding, was hit by an automobile driven by James Spillman. The accident occurred on the grade just west of Milroy. Spillman in the automobile was going east towards Milroy and in attempting to pass the buggy, which was going in the opposite direction, collided with it.

The impact threw the occupants out of the buggy. Mr. Roberts was badly cut about the face and buried Mrs. Roberts and child escaped injury. The buggy was demolished and that the people in the buggy were not more seriously hurt is considered remarkable as the grade at this point in the road is very steep. Mr. Roberts was taken to Milroy where he received medical attention. The responsibility for the accident has not been placed.

CAUGHT WITH AID OF BURGLAR ALARM

Charles Clevenger, Age 18, Son of Henry Clevenger, Charged With Attempt to Steal Hams.

AT WEEKS ABATTOIR TODAY

A burglar alarm at the abattoir of the Weeks Fresh Meat and Provision company, southwest of the city, was responsible for the arrest of Charles Clevenger, 18 years old son of Henry Clevenger, this morning. Young Clevenger is alleged to have stolen two hams from the abattoir.

Clevenger is held in jail and it is likely that charges of petit larceny will be placed against him. He was seen near the abattoir this morning by workmen employed there. They left the place about ten-thirty o'clock coming into the city. Shortly after they left the burglar alarm was sounded. The alarm is attached to the door of the plant and runs to the house on George Weeks' farm, not far distant.

Men hurried to the abattoir and a search is said to have resulted in finding young Clevenger in a nearby field. He had in his possession a sack containing two hams. Clevenger offered a fight when the men approached him. The police were notified and Clevenger was brought to jail. He is held without any charge being placed against him, but it is expected that one will be filed.

George Pearsey is seriously ill at his home in West Third street.

The earnest hope of the chautauqua management is that the weather man, who has not let a rain of any consequence fall in Rushville and vicinity for almost a month, will keep the dry weather plug in the weather map until the Rush county chautauqua, which opens Sunday afternoon and continues until the following Sunday, has run its course.

Prospects were never quite as bright as this year. The scramble for guarantors' season tickets has been a good barometer of the interest in the assembly this year. If the weather will be as pleasant as it has been

ROSS FARGO WILL SING AT ASSEMBLY

Former Rushville Boy, Here For Visit, Will Assist in Preludes at Chautauqua Sunday.

GOING HOME FROM NEW YORK

The program committee of the chautauqua announced at noon today that arrangements had been made for Ross Fargo, former Rushville boy and brother of Mrs. Lowell M. Green of this city, to sing in the preludes at both the afternoon and evening programs tomorrow. He is here for a visit while on the way to his home in Portland, Ore., from New York City, where he has been studying for nine months.

Mr. Fargo is a lyric tenor, with great prospects for the future. He has been studying in New York under Franz X. Arens, conductor of the Peoples Symphony orchestra of New York, with whom Carl Morris also studied. Mr. Fargo is well acquainted with Mr. Morris. He intended to remain in New York only three months, but was persuaded to stay six months longer. He has been doing concert work there.

Mr. Fargo will sing "My Redeemer and My Lord," by Dudley Buck, at one of the preludes tomorrow. The program committee thinks it especially fortunate that it was able to procure the services of Mr. Fargo. A well rounded program had already been arranged, but the committee would not permit a chance to give chautauqua patrons even more for their money.

ALL READY FOR INSTALLATION

Playground Promoters Hoped Equipment Would Arrive Before the Chautauqua Began.

SO PATRONS COULD SEE IT

Baseball Diamond and Tennis Courts Are Nearing Completion
—Space is Large Enough.

Promoters of the playground which is being installed in the city are somewhat disappointed by the failure of the playground equipment to arrive in time for it to be installed before the chautauqua so that persons attending the chautauqua could view it.

Everything is in readiness for the installation of the equipment just as soon as it reaches Rushville. It was ordered eight days ago and was to be shipped within ten days at the very latest. Those who are directing the work of preparing the playground had hoped that it would get here in time so that it could be exhibited during the assembly.

Post holes have all been dug and stumps blown out and cleared away so that nothing will stand in the way of the installation just as soon as the paraphernalia arrives. A small part of the equipment, some of the posts, is here, but nothing can be done until the "trimmings" get here.

Two tennis courts and a baseball diamond are under process of construction. The baseball ground will be located in the cleared space in the northwest corner of the park and will provide ample room for the aspiring Ty Cobbs and Christie Mathewsons of the city. Opponents of the city park as a place for the playground cited the fact that there was not room enough for a ball ground in the park, but those who are in charge of the work say the space is large enough.

"Of course," said one of the directors this morning, "it will not be a South Main street ground, but it will suit the boys exactly."

There were several old stumps in the cleared space. They were blown out and the ground leveled. The infield has been skinned and is as smooth as a paved street, it is said. The tennis courts, the directors assert, will be the best in the city and will afford a lot of amusement for the youngsters.

Many of the directors stoutly assert that Rushville's playground will be one of the best equipped in the state outside of Indianapolis. The only thing lacking will be a swimming pool, but this will not be missed because most of the youngsters will enjoy the wading pool more. Promoters here felt that a swimming pool was out of their reach because of its high cost. The law provides that the water shall be purified at given intervals.

The Hawkins playground was formerly opened in Connersville yesterday afternoon. Several officers of the local organization attended the exercises. The Hawkins playground was given to the city. The program consisted of band music, athletic events and speeches.

FLATROCK HERE.

The Connersville Reserves and the Flatrock team will play here tomorrow in the absence of the Arcadians who journey to Connersville to take on the grays there. The Flatrock team is the same one that played here a few Sundays ago and the fans that remain at home will see a good game.

SALE IS STOPPED BECAUSE OF WAR

American Bankers Association and Express Companies Order Discontinuance of Cheques.

BANKS HERE GET ORDERS

Applies to Domestic as Well as Foreign Cheques Because Former
May be Used in Europe.

Local banks are in receipt today of orders from agencies which they represent to discontinue the sale of domestic and foreign travelers' cheques. The order was issued because of the turmoil in Europe which has brought about a money stringency.

The Peoples National bank and the Rush County National bank which sell American Bankers Association cheques, received word late yesterday to stop the sale. The Rush county bank also sells American Express company cheques, and it has the same orders from that company.

The farmers Trust company sells American Express company's cheques. At this institution, it was said the sale of foreign travelers' cheques had been stopped more than a week ago, but that they had no orders to discontinue the sale of domestic travelers' cheques.

The Rushville National bank, which sells for the American Express company and the Wells Fargo Express company, has similar orders concerning both domestic and foreign travelers' cheques.

It is explained that the sale of domestic travelers' checks has been stopped for the reason that they are good in Europe where war is expected momentarily.

Dispatches contain the information that American travelers are disposing of their travelers' cheques at a great discount. It was stated here that the sale was stopped in the United States because all foreign business had been discontinued. Rates of discount are being increased by foreign financial institutions every day. Today the Bank of England, the largest financial institution in the world, raised its minimum rate of discount from 8 to 10 per cent.

Dispatches today declare United States warships may be used to bring home Americans stranded in Europe because of the recall of several large passenger vessels and the possibility of the discontinuance of passenger service on the Atlantic in the event of a general European war. In this case the Rushville school teachers, Miss Henrietta Coleman, Miss Genevieve Brown and Miss Helen Scott, may get the opportunity of coming home under the United States colors. They are now in Florence Italy, according to their itinerary. They are scheduled to sail from Liverpool on the Canada August 22.

WILL HOLD SIX EXHIBITIONS

Purdue Extension Department Will Hold Demonstrations During September and October.

TO SHOW VALUE OF ORCHARD

It is Most Neglected Acre on the Farm, Experts Say—Will be Held in Orchards.

Plans are being formulated for the holding of six series of orchard demonstrations over the state by workers sent out by the Agricultural Extension Department of Purdue university. These meetings will be held during September and October and the workers will demonstrate all phases of practical orchard work.

Without a doubt the Indiana home orchard is the most neglected acre on the farm. This is not due so much to the fact that the farmer does not desire to care for the orchard but because he does not know how to prune or when to spray. Years ago the Horticultural Department attempted to remedy the condition by holding practical orchard demonstrations throughout the State. Every year since then demonstrations have been and the farmers are awakening to the fact that they must care for their orchards. These meetings are scheduled for the entire day and are held in orchards of the farmers. A representative from Purdue holds these meetings and subjects on practical orchard management were discussed and questions answered. During the morning sessions orchard cultivation and fertilization are discussed from the farm orchard standpoint. Great emphasis is laid on proper pruning methods. A satisfactory kit of pruning tools is shown and several trees actually pruned to demonstrate the points under discussion.

After a picnic lunch a conference is held in which diseased specimens and insects which have been brought in by the farmers are identified and control measures suggested. After this the orchard pests are described and classified. Spray materials are discussed and several of the leading materials are made and applied to the trees.

The main idea of each one of these meetings is to show the farmers the actual work that it takes to keep an orchard in first class condition. Having the meetings in the orchard calls to mind the problems that have been met in the orchard at home and helps the lecturer to demonstrate for their solution. During the past five years 246 such meetings have been held by the Extension Department reaching 1900 different farmers of the State.

Any one interested in securing meetings for their community should address the Agricultural Extension Department, Lafayette, Indiana.

DRY BILL CONSIDERED.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 1.—A postponed meeting of the House Rules Committee to consider the order of a special rule for presentation to the House of the Hobson national prohibition amendment was scheduled for today. Suffragists leaders threatened to complicate an already delicate situation by a demand that if a special rule expediting the national dry amendment consideration goes, that similar action be taken regarding the Mondell woman suffrage amendment, or that it be tacked onto the regular legislative program. Chances appeared to be small for presentation of either amendment to the House during the present session.

MINIMUM WAGE FOR GIRLS.

(By United Press.)

Olympia, Wash., Aug. 1.—The minimum wage of girls over eighteen and of women employed in industrial occupations in the state of Washington, after today will be $8.90 a week, a ruling of the industrial welfare commission to that effect having gone into operation today. The commission also ordered that $6 a week shall be the minimum wage for minors of both sexes employed in factories.

CAPITAL GEEGAWS TAXED.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 1.—For the first time since 1902 a new law assessing taxes on jewelry and "other articles of personal adornment" owned by residents of the National Capital went into effect today. Most criticism of the law, naturally, came from wealthy society women whose jewels are renowned for their great value and beauty. The biggest tax on any single jewel, it was said will be paid on the notorious Hope diamond, purchased some time ago by Mrs. Edward B. McLean, wife of the owner of a Washington newspaper, and daughter of the late Thomas F. Walsh, Colorado mining king. Thousands of dollars additional revenue was expected to result from the law, the best part of it being according to the law's framers, the increased revenue will come from the pockets of those who can well afford it and not from the C. P.

ON PILGRIMAGE.

(By United Press.)

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Several thousand Catholics, representing the Albany diocese, will leave here and nearby points tomorrow on a pilgrimage to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec. A number of clergymen will direct the pilgrimage.

"SMITHIE" CELEBRATES.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 1.—The youngest of the four "Smithies" of the Senate—Senator Ellison D. Smith, of Florence, South Carolina—today celebrated his forty-eighth birthday anniversary. This is also the birthday anniversary of Representative B. L. French, of Idaho, born August 1, 1875.

MAINE ANCHOR UNVEILED.

(By United Press.)

Reading, Pa., Aug. 1.—With Governor Tener officiating the Maine anchor was unveiled here today with impressive ceremonies. Civic, fraternal and patriotic societies joined in the celebration. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt was expected to be one of the speakers.

OPENS CAMPAIGN.

(By United Press.)

New York, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the Empire State campaign committee of equal suffragists, recently returned from abroad, today opened the New York women's campaign to enforce recognition at the Republican and Democratic conventions at Saratoga. One of the plans being worked out today is to find one woman for every man who attend these conventions. These women will interview each delegate and learn exactly how he stands on the question of equal suffrage. The women will actively campaign in the interest of all those who are favorable to the cause.

TO SHOW MODEL OF RURAL SCHOOL

United States Agricultural Experts in Co-Operation With Certain State Colleges

TO HELP FARMERS AND WIVES

Will Furnish Textbooks, Lectures, Lantern Slides and Laboratory Equipment for Them

A plan whereby ten or more farmers or farm women can form home classes in agriculture or domestic science and receive the textbooks, lectures, lantern slides, laboratory and cooking equipment necessary to conduct them has been devised by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in co-operation with Agricultural Colleges of certain States.

The object of the plan is to make accessible at home, to men and women who have not the time or means to attend the regular courses at the colleges, practical short courses in agriculture and home management especially adapted to their districts. These courses, which will consist of 15 to 20 lectures, and will consume five or more weeks, can be arranged to suit the spare time and convenience of each group of people.

The courses to be offered at first are poultry raising, fruit growing, soils, cheese manufacturing, dairying, butter making, and farm book-keeping; and for the women especially, courses in the preparation, cooking and use of vegetable and cereal foods. The Department will supply lectures and lantern slides covering these subjects, and the states which have agreed to co-operate in the plan will lend to each group laboratory and cooking apparatus valued at $100 and a reference library. The textbooks and lectures will be made so complete that each group can safely appoint one of its members as study leader to direct the work of the course.

When a group has decided to take up the work, the State which co-operates sends an agent with the Department representative to organize a sample class and assist the leader whom they elect in laying out the work and in showing him the best methods of procedure. The classes commonly are held from 8:00 to 12:00 in the morning and from 1:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon, two or three days each week. The sessions are not held every day, so that the members will have time to attend to their farm duties in between the sessions, as well as before and after the instruction period. The classes meet commonly at the most convenient farmhouse. During the morning hours, textbook work is done. In the afternoon laboratory work is conducted, and the women who have elected to take the domestic science courses have practical lessons in cooking.

As soon as a class is established, the State organizer withdraws to start a class in some other district. The work thereafter is left in charge of the leader, who receives assistance by mail from the college or the Department in carrying on the work.

As there is no regularly paid instructor, classes can be carried on all over the State as rapidly as the college organizer can visit the groups, and as quickly as the laboratory sets supplied by the college become available. The local leader will preside during the reading of the lectures and references, for which full texts and lantern slides are supplied by the Department. He will also be responsible for the laboratory equipment. Every one who completes the course will receive a certificate from the State College.

Not all of the States have yet agreed to cooperate in this plan. Last winter experiments along these lines were carried out successfully in Pennsylvania, and this has stimulated an interest in the method in other States. In one of the Pennsylvania classes more men applied than could be accommodated, and all of the 20 men and 15 women who began the course completed it. Pennsylvania is now arranging for more classes, while Massachusetts, Michigan, Vermont and Florida expect to take up the work. Other States such as Maine, New York, New Jersey, and Delaware have signified their willingness to cooperate.

Ordinarily a college in a state usually applies to the Department seeking its cooperation, when sufficient interest has been shown in the plan in several communities where ten or more people have sought the instruction. For financial reasons, certain colleges are not so able to engage in the work as others.

The advantage claimed for the new home courses with local leaders and laboratory equipment over the ordinary correspondence courses is that only a small percentage of those who take the individual correspondence course finish it. Studying in a group, with laboratory work and a leader, seems to stimulate the interest and add a social feature which lead the members of the group to follow the work conscientiously and complete it. Experiments with free correspondence courses show that while many individuals gain advantage from them, many others, because the material is furnished free, do not feel the same obligation to complete them as they do when they pay a substantial sum of money for the instruction.

The Misses Lenora and Alice Norris will entertain at six o'clock dinner tonight in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Marsters of New York City.

Mrs. Maria Smullen entertained at six o'clock dinner last night at her home in Raleigh in honor of Miss Maude Daily of Chicago. Those present were Miss Cecil Eakin, Miss Gladys Hollingsworth, Miss Norma Pearson and Hale Hollingsworth.

***

Miss Helen Norris delightfully entertained a number of friends at her country home southeast of Rushville Thursday evening with a slumber party, honoring her house guests, the Misses Edna Trobaugh, Eva Chandler and Bernice Hinshaw of Dunreith. A three-course dinner was served and the evening was spent playing games and holding a marshmallow toast. The following evening, Friday, a pitch-in supper, honoring the same guests, was given on the spacious lawn at the home of Miss Louise Kenner.

H. H. Elwell entertained with an elaborate four course dinner Thursday at his home near Raleigh, the occasion being his eighty-first birthday. Eighty-six people were present and all were seated at one large table. At one end of the table was a large cake containing eighty-one candles and at the other was a basket of roses containing a like number.

The following were among the guests from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Broadbush, Mrs. I. Zeller, Mrs. Maggie Powell, Mrs. Sarah Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Heimman, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Caldwell and Carl Williams, Connersville; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powell, Bentonville; Mr. and Mrs. George Looney, Rushville; Mrs. Ella Clancy, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weil, Mrs. O. ## Amusements

The Princess will show the usual three pictures tonight. The first is a comedy "Bunny's Swell Affair." John Bunny and Flora Finch are featured and it is said to be a clever production. The second is the fourth story of the man who disappeared entitled "With Hi, the Light on the Wall." The last is a drama "The Uneven Balance." Monday night the two reel feature "Cutey's Wife" will be shown.

The Gem will show the sixth of the series of "Lucille Love, the Girl of Mystery" for tonight. It is a two reel subject. The story like all of this series is very thrilling and the adventures are very realistic. Grace Cunard and Francis Ford are featured. The other is a comedy entitled "Dead Broke." Monday night the two reel feature "Heart and Swords" will be shown.

The Portola will show a big four reel feature "The Great Mine Disaster" for tonight's program. The story is said to be a thrilling one and the scenes are very realistic.

HAS TWO OFFERS TO LIGHT GROUNDS

Executive Committee of Rush County Fair Board Meets Late Today to Consider Proposition.

NIGHT FAIR SEEMS CERTAIN

The executive committee of the Rush county fair board held an important meeting this afternoon in the office of the secretary, J. Q. Thomas. One of the important things to come before the meeting was the letting of the contract for lighting the grounds for a night fair. A proposition was to be submitted by the I. & C. traction company and one other offer was to be considered. Will M. Frazee was present, representing the traction company, and according to members of the committee, a night fair was certain.

The executive committee has employed a band from Shelbyville to furnish music for the fair, both day and night. The band carries several soloists and is said to be a first-class organization.

A. L. Riggs, Republican county chairman, met with the Republican county chairmen of Fayette and Hancock counties this week at Cambridge City and it was decided to hold the Republican joint senatorial convention at Greenfield. The date will be set later.

A Talk to Mrs. Housewife of Rushville.

When that visitor is here from out-of-town you hurry home from church on Sunday morning to make sure the big dinner is going to be just right. You "pitch in" yourself and when everything is ready you're too tired and hot to enjoy the meal. When the meal is over there comes the cleaning up before that afternoon drive and for the rest of the day you feel unfit for your role of entertaining hostess.

There's only one way to overcome that worry and hurry, to prevent "that tired feeling" before your day of rest is half through. Your husband will agree on that point when you suggest taking Mr. and Mrs. Out-of-Town to a Sunday dinner at the

What War Means Here.

In case of a general war in Europe, which seems very probable now, United States would be the only large neutral power because Japan, which is out of war district, has declared its intention of supporting its ally, England. There is little doubt but that the effects of the war would be felt all over the United States, especially in a farming community such as Rush county is.

With the producers of Europe suddenly called to a halt, the burden of supplying a good bit of the food that would be consumed in European countries would fall on the shoulders of the United States. It will be seen readily what effect that would have on prices in this county. The price of foodstuffs would soar because of the heavy demand and the great lessening of the supply. An example of this was seen yesterday when large supplies were bought for the German army in Berlin and the price of commodities rose seventy-five per cent. almost immediately.

While this is likely to be true, it is quite likely that the demand for United States products will be only temporary because much such talk proceeds without reckoning the practice of nations with respect to contraband, and without seeing that an European war is likely to develop such orders as to contraband so greatly as to minimize the exportation of American goods to the other side of the Atlantic.

In all international law there is nothing more confusing than this question of contraband. Contraband goods are divided into two classes—absolute contraband and conditional contraband. In the first class belong munitions of war and everything that can be used by a belligerent army. In the second class are included articles which are necessities of life. It is the vagueness concerning conditional contraband which is most vexing to neutral countries.

John Bassett Moore, formerly Assistant Secretary of State, and probably the greatest living authority on international law, points out that the definition of conditional contraband enables a belligerent Governor to declare any cargo of foodstuffs confiscated, even if it be not consigned to an enemy government. By conditional contraband, if intended for the use of a belligerent government, but not if for private citizens.

As Prof. Moore points out, any merchant established in the enemy's country will sell goods to the Government.

Again, in this age of railways any place may serve as a base for supplying the armed forces of the enemy.

One fact, however, is important. Cargoes of condition contraband—including foodstuffs—cannot be seized if consigned to a neutral port.

Thus foodstuffs and similar harmless materials, if consigned from America to Belgium, cannot be seized, unless Belgium and the Netherlands become involved in the quarrel, which is extremely unlikely.

Consequently the ports of Belgium and the Netherlands will probably—in the case of a general war—become the distributing points from which all Europe will be fed.

An American vessel in a war between England and Germany could carry any cargo to Germany. But England would have the right to stop the vessel on the high seas and search it. If it found contraband goods, such goods could be and would be seized. This country could take no just offense under the rules of international law.

If it was found that the vessel was seeking to get the goods through by ruse and deception, not only the cargo, but the vessel might be seized.

If Germany and England became involved in the war all the best transatlantic lines will immediately be transposed into men-o'-war. Such vessels as are not requisitioned for transport service will be withdrawn from commerce. If the war should become as general as is feared the world's maritime commerce will probably be confined to American, Belgium and Dutch vessels.

Even though England is on the brink of a great war, it may take some consolation in the fact that militant suffragettes have called off their campaign until the troubled seas are settled.

A LITTLE WARMER TODAY

But Even That is Not Hot as We Call it Here.

The highest maximum temperature since Tuesday was registered today when eighty-five degrees was reached down town. But at that today was not so warm. The delightful weather of Tuesday afternoon adn on up until to day has put people in a poor way for another heat wave. The weather man varied his prediction a little today by changing it to read "Cloudy tonight and Sunday." He gives no promise that the cool weather will continue.

THIS WAS A TRADE.

Knecht & Gartin, local automobile agents, made a deal yesterday that probably is without parallel in Rush county. They persuaded a farmer living near Glenwood to buy an automobile and, in addition to a sum of money, this is what he gave them for the machine: three horses, one cow, two yearling calves, two goslings, two chickens and an old carriage.

IGNORANCE IS LARGELY CAUSE

Tuberculosis Many Times Caused by People Not Knowing How to Take Care of Disease.

ONE CASE GIVEN BY DR. HURTY

Says State Might as Well Kill People Outright as to Let Present Conditions Exist.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, July 29.—Under the caption, "Why Not Kill Her Outright," Dr. J. N. Hurty state health commissioner makes complaint through inference against the state of Indiana for not providing adequate for the care of consumptives. In the bulletin given the United Press today Dr. Hurty states:

"A correspondent writes the state board of health as follows:

"My wife has tuberculosis and has been confined to her bed for five months. I am a poor man and I cannot find any one to take care of her while I am at work. I have rented a farm and must put in a corn crop. My wife must be cared for somehow, and I must work. Is there no place I can send her? I cannot pay much, but will gladly pay all that I can earn. Please let me know where I can find a place to take her and oblige. Yours truly."

"Here is a case which is typical of hundreds occurring constantly in the State of Indiana and all other states. This woman in ignorance contracted a terrible disease and now is a center of infection to others. If the State deliberately permits the woman to be attacked by tuberculosis, and then does nothing whatever to prevent her from poisoning others with the same disease, why should not the state kill her outright? The killing has been going on slowly and without the least care or interest from the state. If the woman had been brought to the condition by the poison called morphine or the poison called arsenic, then the state would have quivered with excitement to look after the matter. But she is only killed with a poison called tuberculosis. Between it and other poisons so far as results are concerned, there is no difference. Why should not the state kill her outright? A slow death on account of omission is certainly the same as a quick death on account of commission."

REPUBLICAN ELECTED.

Champaign, Ill., July 31.—Frank H. Boggs of Urbana, Republican, today was elected Circuit judge of the sixth judicial district at a special election following the death of Judge Solon Philbrick, Boggs had an estimated plurality of 2,000 over Delbert R. Enochs, Democrat, and E. J. Hawbaker, Progressive, who ran in the order named.

In a letter to relatives here, Mrs. Jane Ging of Muncie writes that her daughter, Miss Anna, who suffered a fracture of the hip in a fall a few weeks ago, is still in the hospital but is making satisfactory improvement. Her physician says she will be sufficiently recovered to take up her school work in September.

GET VARIETY TO SUIT SOIL

Farmers Find it Hard to Procure

Kind Satisfactory in Combatting Hog Cholera.

CAMPAIGN ON TO HELP THEM

Dr. D. B. Clark of Veterinary Department Points Out Reason

For Great Many Failures.

Farmers over the State have experienced a great amount of difficulty in getting serum that will give satisfaction for vaccinating purposes. The extensive campaign that is under way by workers sent out by Purdue University will help to right the farmers in their views of selecting serum and vaccinating their herds.

"One of the complications met with in the vaccination of hogs against hog cholera" says Dr. D. B. Clark of the Veterinary Department, "is that the hogs die of cholera in from eight to fourteen days from the date of vaccination. This is due to the fact that either too small a dose of serum is given, or the serum did not contain a sufficient number of anti-bodies or was lacking in potency, as it is termed, to withstand the exposure which was given the hogs by injecting the cholera virus."

"We have found in manufacturing serum that, in order to obtain potent serum, the hyperimmunes must be injected with virus taken from hogs affected with acute cholera."

"Some of the commercial serum companies have been obtaining their virus by purchasing sick hogs, either from farmers or out of the stock yards, and as they are not able to ascertain how long these hogs have been exposed, a large percentage of this cholera blood comes from hogs having a chronic form of the disease. If the purchased hogs are affected with chronic cholera, we have found that this makes the serum of a very low potency. The potency of serum may again be weakened by not injecting a sufficient amount of virus into the hyperimmunes, or it may be due to breeding the hyperimmunes too many times without re-injecting them with virus."

"The veterinarian," says Dr. Clark, "should exercise the greatest care in selecting serum, and the farmers should not permit the vaccination of his hogs unless he knows that the serum was obtained from some reliable firm."

TO START WORK ON DRYDOCK

Will Be Completed at Total Cost of
Two Million

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—Work on San Francisco's new $2,000,000 naval drydock at Hunter Point will start before the end of this month, according to President J. A. McGregor, of the Union Iron Works. The intention is to have it completed and ready for use before January 1, 1917. By the terms of the company's arrangement with the government, the dock will be capable of handling the biggest dreadnaught that can pass through the Panama Canal. In turn, the last naval appropriation bill guaranteed rentals for it amounting to at least $50,000 annually for six years.

CHAUTAUQUA IS READY FOR DEBUT

been this week, there isn't the least doubt in the minds of the chautauqua promoters but that the attendance this year will far exceed any year yet.

The program opens Sunday afternoon with devotional exercises and the annual address by the president of the Rush County Chautauqua Association, George C. Wyatt. Then will follow the preludes by Helen Axe Brown, a soloist, of Valparaiso, Ind., and Miss Leona Thomas, violinist. The afternoon address by Dr. Herbert L. Willett will be on the subject, "The Man of Nazareth." The evening lecture by Dr. Willett at eight-fifteen o'clock will be on the subject, "The Spirit of Youth."

With some anticipation, members of the Ladies Musical and other friends of Miss Leona Thomas, the Arlington musical prodigy, are looking forward to her first appearance Sunday afternoon. It will be her first time before a large audience. She played at the annual meeting of the sixth district federation of clubs in Richmond, but that gathering was not so large as the crowd she will face Sunday.

Miss Thomas has already proved her ability to interpret the most difficult composition for the violin. She began playing the instrument when a small child and early in life revealed such talent that the Ladies Musical here encouraged her. She is a pupil of Herr Schaffer's, late of Germany. She has a skill, her admirers point out, that shows an unusual technique and wonderful tone production.

After Sunday will follow in rapid succession seven days of wonderful programs, the like of which patrons of the Rush county chautauqua have never enjoyed. The first five days of the week, beginning Monday, the annual Rush county teachers institute will be held in the mornings in conjunction with the chautauqua. Their sessions will be in the court house assembly room. Dr. Wirt Lowther, pastor of the First Methodist church of Columbus, Ind., in addition to acting as platform manager this year, will be one of the two lecturers at the teachers institute. Dr. Arnold B. Hall, professor of history in the university of Wisconsin, will be the other lecturer.

Monday the Shumann quintet will come for two days, furnishing the preludes and a grand concert Monday night. The Schumann quintet is highly recommended to the chautauqua program committee. The newspaper notices praise without qualification the work of this organization. It is headed by Carl Lampert, late of Thomas' orchestra.

In addition to his work as platform manager and institute lecturer, Dr. Lowther will Monday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons give a literary lecture at four o'clock. He will be remembered for his excellent work along this line last year when he was platform manager half the time.

Albert E. Wiggam, apostle of efficiency, who lectures Monday afternoon at 2:45, has risen to his present high state on the Lyceum platform through sheer force of character. Early in life he had a long fight with tuberculosis and won out. He is now in the prime of life and is more vigorous than ever. He has made untiring research along scientific lines.

Tuesday afternoon, besides the preludes and Lowther lecture, Lulu Tyler Gates, a reader of excellent reputation, will give a program and at night the inimitable Strickland Gillilan will furnish a few laughs.

Chautauqua tickets are now on sale at Hargrove and Mullin and Wolcott's drug store. The adult season tickets are $2 and the children tickets $1.

MOTHER AND SON ARRESTED

Lulu Shipley and Son Rodney Charged With Pointing Gun at Man.

Mrs. Lulu Shipley and son Rodney, of near Falmouth, were arrested yesterday as a result of an affidavit filed before Squire Frank in Connersville by Joseph A. Theobald, who alleges that Mrs. Shipley pointed a deadly weapon at him and that her son carried concealed weapons. Both of the defendants entered pleas of not guilty and the trial is set for Monday morning at ten o'clock. Reuben Conner represents the defendants and the state will be represented by D. W. McKee and Prosecutor Edwards.

GAME POSTPONED.

The croquet game which was to Shelbyville between the Shelbyville have been played Thursday night in team and Manila was postponed because Dr. Charles Zike of the Manila team could not be present. The contest will likely be played Saturday night.

KNECHT & GARTIN

EXPORTS FALL OFF AS USUAL

And, Under New Tariff Law, Imports Show Big Increase in First Nine Months by Comparison

AMOUNTS TO $100,000,000

Decrease in Exports is Chiefly in Foodstuffs--30 Million Decrease in Manufactured Goods.

The first nine months' operations of the new tariff law showed a foreign commerce of $3,243,566,840, being, with one exception, the largest total ever shown for a like period, and falling only 2.17 per cent below the high record made in the October-June period of 1912-13.

Imports, according to the official figures of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, in the nine months ended with June last amounted to $1,446,127,491, against $1,364,765,233 in the corresponding period one year ago and $1,284,093,701 in the like period two years ago.

Free merchandise imported during the first nine months of the present tariff law aggregated $893,602,100 forming 61.8 per cent of the total imports, compared with 54.9 per cent in the corresponding period a year earlier.

The high-record imports noted above resulted chiefly from a marked increase in foodstuffs, amounting to 73 million dollars in the first nine months of the new tariff period, and smaller increases in manufactures and raw materials. Partially completed manufactures imported fell off about 14 per cent.

Exports during the nine months under review totaled $1,797,439,349, with one exception the largest October-June total ever shown, being 7.8 per cent below the high record made in the corresponding period of any earlier year. The falling off in exports, which had been somewhat pronounced in the period from November to May last, seems to have about culminated, since the figures for June were only $6,285,465 below June of last year and were considerably more than those of any prior June in the history of the export trade.

The decrease in exports was chiefly in foodstuffs, a reflection of the shortage in the domestic supply, which also manifested itself in larger importations of that class. Foreign requirements of American products for manufacturing purposes were slightly less than in the same period a year ago, a falling off of 30 million dollars being noted in the exports of partially manufactured materials and an increase of 32 million in the exports of raw materials. Finished manufactures exported in the nine months decreased 51 million dollars, as compared with a decrease of 99 million in foodstuffs.

Customs receipts under the new tariff for the period from October 4, 1913, to June 30, 1914, amounted to $206,473,502, or $23,000,000 per month. As a revenue producer the existing tariff compares favorably with other tariff laws enacted in the last 25 years. Taking the monthly average custom receipts for the entire periods in which the respective tariffs remained in force it is found that the present law, while yielding somewhat less revenue than the Payne law, is slightly more remunerative than the Dingley law and one and a half times as productive as the McKinley and Wilson laws. The aggregate customs receipts during nine months under the Underwood tariff law were $206,473,502, or 23 million per month; during 50 months under the Payne tariff, 1,335 million, or 26 3/4 million per month; during 144 months under the Dingley tariff, 3,122 million, or 21 3/4 million per month; during 35 months under the Wilson tariff, 485 million, or 14 million per month; and during 47 months under the McKinley tariff, 685 million, or 14 1/2 million per month.

The average ad valorem rates of duty on merchandise imported under the Underwood tariff law are the lowest in 25 years, being 36 per cent when based upon dutiable imports and 14 per cent when based upon total imports. Under the McKinley

Waist Lines, Like Waste Places of Earth, Are Being Done Away With

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press)

To put his arm about her waist, He yearns, the ardent lover; But just quite where her waist should be

He really can't discover; It has its up and downs, you see, And always under cover.

New York, July 31.—In these fashionable days of frank revelations my lady's waist line seems to be about the only spot that is left to the imagination. With her bodice cut so low and open to the elements and her sheer lace skirts open to criticism the waistline is the only part kept within bounds. Yet as a boundary it is as contested a bit of topography as the River of Doubt.

Here today and there tomorrow the waist line is wont to pursue its free and untrampled way anywhere from the knee up to the bustline. On one hand we are assured that it is to be done away with entirely like other wastelands of the earth and then comes the portent for Fall that it will still be in our midst and all squeezed up again to erstwhile eighteen inch proportions. Indeed it seems no idle threat that this Autumn the glass of Fashion will be the hourglass and that the feminine figure will figure as the figure eight once more.

It's the basque that is doing it but at the time of going to press the waist line has resisted all pressure and is yet guiltless of any convexity, basque or no basque. In fact quite the newest wrinkle is to have your basque wrinkled as if over an entirely uncorseted figure. In its most approved form the basque of the moment is cut in three or five pieces, buttoned with very obvious buttons from the low cut neck down to its finish which is apt to be either at the hip line or well down below it.

White taffeta is quite the smartest fabric for the fashionable basque as it is indeed for the entire approved lingerie frock.

Time was when a lingerie frock meant a washable dress of tub material even as was my lady's vertiable lingerie but since those intimated garments are these days fashioned of Pussywillow taffeta it is only natural course of events that the frocks deriving their qualities and name there from should also be evolved from the soft lengths of white taffeta.

The skirts finishing these white taffeta basques frocks are full shirred affairs either set on the basque plainly or with a hip sash of Black velvet.

Black velvet pumps worn with the sheerest of white silk stockings and one of the new black velvet hats completes this costume which stamps you one of immediately in black and white as the last word in up to the minute fashions.

Truly the fully shirred skirt is now the correct thing and the tight affair that has had you so long in its grasp has been forced to relinquish its strangle hold even as an underskirt under the long Russian tunic.

This pretense of a tight underskirt has been frankly discarded and the long full tunic, lengthened slightly, has evolved into the entire and only skirt, sufficient unto itself. Skirts composed entirely of flounces of either lace or silk are very popular with the basque waists and some daring designers are actually showing models of the flounced skirts over small hoops.

Pleated skirts are also right on the job in the fullness thereof especially on the dancing frocks. Fashioned from the gossamer lightness of Malines, lace chiffon, or not those airy accoridian pleated skirts lend themselves beautifully to the successful tripping of the light fantastic and the mazes of the maxixe.

A perfect gem of a dance frock is a combination of a black velvet basque with a frothy skirt of accoridian pleated white net flounces. Of course the basque is decollete and a red, red rose is pinned to the left shoulder. Worn with a high Spanish comb in the hair this costume leads one to expect its wearer to break into a fandango a la Carmencita rather than a maxixe or hesitation a la Mrs. Vernon Castle. John Sawyer, Grace Walton, Mrs. Douglass Crane or one of the other fifty seven varieties of rival modern Terpsichores.

law these rates were 47.1 and 22.1 per cent, respectively; under the Wilson law, 42.8 and 21.9 per cent; under the Dingley law, 45.8 and 25.5 per cent; and under the Payne law, 40.5 and 20 per cent, respectively.

COLORADO 38 YEARS OLD

Day is Appropriately Observed Throughout State

(By United Press.)

Denver, Aug. 1.—Thirty-eight years ago today the state of Colorado was born. This is Colorado Day throughout the state, and it is a greater scale than ever before. Harry Ruffer, secretary of the Sons of Colorado, and Governor Ammons have been in charge of the arrangements here and the program includes a celebration at City Park. The Sons presented to the city a huge flag of the state, after which a chorus rendered patriotic songs. Governor Ammons was to be the principal speaker here this afternoon.

WOMAN LEADS CONVENTION

Denver, Aug. 1.—A new chairman of the Democratic state central committee probably will be elected at the called meeting of that body which opened sessions at a local hotel today. Mrs. Gertrude Lee, the first woman state chairman of a big political party in the history of the United States, succeeded temporarily to that position from the vice-chairmanship last spring when Chairman George T. Bradley resigned. With a new campaign coming on a new chairman must be elected. Many predict that Mrs. Lee will be chosen to succeed herself.

"DRY" CONFERENCE OPENS IN CHICAGO

Anti-Saloon and Prohibition Workers from Eleven States Gather for Four Day Session

MANY ADDRESSES ON PROGRAM

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 1.—Anti-saloon League superintendents, prohibition workers and friends of the "dry" cause from eleven middle-western states gathered at the La-Salle hotel today, opening a four day session during which time the progress of the cause will be discussed by the leaders.

The states represented were Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota South Dakota and Nebraska.

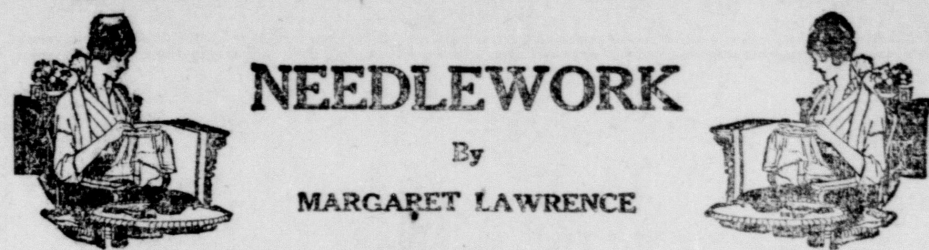

The conference opened with an address by P. A. Baker, of Ohio. Other prominent speakers will be E. H. Cherrington, W. E. Wheeler, state superintendent of Ohio, and E. S. Shumaker.

The I. & C. Traction Co. will run two sections of the 12:20 p. m. trains Sunday, August 2, to accommodate those wishing to attend the ball game at Connorsville between the Arcadians and the Connorsville teams. Game called at 2:30 p. m. 12:02.

TWO SUITABLE DESIGNS FOR EMBROIDERING PARASOLS.

What is more attractive than a pretty white parasol to complete the dainty wardrobe of the summer girl. Here are two lovely designs which are suitable for embroidering parasols of linen or silk. The sections should be embroidered before stretching them over the frame, and they should be cut so that there will be plenty of material for seams. The outer edge of the parasol may be finished with scallops, a hemstitched hem or a narrow hem. The floral sprays, in pattern 14268, are 5 1/2 by 10 inches, and there are 8 motifs in the pattern, 4 reversed. 10 cents. These are suitable for use on parasols, waists, dresses, underwear, center-pieces, bureau-scarfs and lingerie pillows. The conventional motifs, 14512, are 8 by 8 1/4 inches, and the pattern includes 8 of them for 15 cents. These may be used on parasols, waists and dresses of linen. Solid work and eyelets combined may be used in developing these motifs, or either stitch may be used alone. Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer patterns will be supplied to readers upon receipt of price.

THE VOGUE FOR STRIPED MATERIALS BECOMES MORE NOTICEABLE DAILY

Some of the most striking and effective of the summer frocks are being developed in striped fabrics, taffetas, linens, voiles, chiffons, organdies, etc. Stripes are of all widths, some striking to a degree, others quaint and pleasing. The "peppermint candy" stripes are unusually attractive and appear in many of the soft summer silks; taffetas incline toward the broad awning bars, alternating black and white and on many of the cottons and linens one sees uneven stripes broad and narrow employed side by side.

There are some charming checked materials, too, that vie for favor with the stripes.

The crepe costume shown in 8400, shows a candy stripe in black on a white ground; the tunic is bordered with black taffetas which extends in a novel way up to the girdle, ending in a broad bow. The cuffs are of the taffetas and the collar of white organdy. To copy this dress in size 36, 6 yards of 36-inch material is required, No. 8400, sizes, 34 to 42. Pattern, 15 cents.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

 Gives Full Report National and State Funds

IS AN EXHAUSTIVE AFFAIR

Full History of National Debt is Set Forth—Higher in 1870 Than Any Time Since

Washington, August 1.—The full report on national and state indebtedness and funds and investments from 1870 to 1913 has just been issued by Director William J. Harris of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. The bulletin gives information for the United States as a whole and for each state separately, and it is now ready for distribution.

According to this bulletin, the total debt of the 48 states governments on June 30, 1913, amounted to $422,796,525. Of this total, $403,366,569 represented funded debt, and $19,429,956 represented floating debt. Of the funded debt, $364,836,427 are represented in bonds and $38,530,142 are special debt obligations to public trust funds.

As an offsetting item against this total debt of the 48 states governments, $76,980,571 in sinking fund assets, leaving their debt (less sinking fund assets), $345,942,305. The per capita debt for the 48 states amounted to $3.57 on June 30, 1913.

In contrast with the debt of the 48 state governments, the national government had a total debt on June 30, 1913, of $2,916,204,914. Of this total, the funded debt amounted to $2,540,523,329, while the floating debt amounted to $375,681,585. Of the funded debt, the bonded indebtedness amounted to $967,366,160, while the special debt obligations amounted to $1,573,157,169. The sinking fund assets or cash in the United States treasury available for the payment of debt, consisting of accumulated trust funds, gold and silver and general treasury cash, not only were sufficient to eliminate entirely the special debt obligations but also to reduce the bonded debt. The national debt, less cash in the treasury available for the payment of debt, amounted to only $1,028,564,055, or a per capita debt of $10.59.

The net debt of the national government represents three times the total net debt of the state governments. Of the total per capita debt of $14.15 (national and state), the debt of the national government is 10.59, or 25 per cent of the total.

The debt of the national government was higher in 1870 than at any time since that date; the per capita debt that year being $60.46. This amount, though large, was a material decrease over the debt as it stood August 31, 1865. On that date the indebtedness of the national government (less funds available for the payment of debt) amounted to $2,766,431,571, an average of $79.44 for every inhabitant of the country, and 1870 was continued until 1880, and 1870 was continued until 1880 the indebtedness of the national government had decreased so that, together with the rapid increase in the population, the per capita debt had been reduced to only $38.27. Ten years later (1890) it had been reduced to $13.60, at which point it remained with only comparatively slight fluctuations, increasing somewhat during the Spanish-American war and decreasing somewhat since that date, until, at the latest date reported (1913), the indebtedness of the national government amounts to only $10.59 per capita, an amount slightly higher than in 1907, when the per capita indebtedness was $10.05, the lowest recorded.

No data are available to show the debt of the 48 state governments, or the territory from which they have been formed, in 1865, but in 1870 the indebtedness of the state governments, less sinking fund assets, was $352,866,698, or $9.15 per capita. The indebtedness of the state governments decreased in somewhat the same proportion as the indebtedness of the national government, and 1880 the per capita debt for the 48 state governments was $5.48. Ten years later (1890) this had been reduced to $3.37. Further fluctuations during the last 20 years brought the per capita down to $2.67 in 1909 the lowest amount shown in the period covered. Since 1909 there has been some increase, the per capita debt for the 48 state governments being $3.57 on June 30, 1913.

Although there is a net decrease during the period covered in the actual outstanding indebtedness, the material part of the decrease in per capita debt, both for the national government and the 48 state governments, is due to the very material increase in population, amounting to 138.5 per cent in the period named. Considering the total debt for the national government and the 48 state governments, the total amount outstanding decreased from $2,684,036,654 in 1870 to $1,374,506,360 in 1913, a decrease of almost 50 per cent. In contrast, the per capita debt decreased from $59.61 in 1870 to $14.15 in 1913 (almost 80 per cent), the lowest point reached being in 1907, when it amounted to $12.74.

The figures in the report show that Arizona and Massachusetts are the only states where the state debt, less sinking fund assets, amounts to more per capita than $10.59, the per capita debt for the United States. The debt of the national government, therefore, is a greater financial weight upon the people of every state in the Union (excepting these two) than is the debt of the state in which they live. In only a very small number of states does the per capita state debt amount to one-half the per capita debt of the national government. New York, for example, has a per capita state debt of $9.05, due largely to the cost of the Erie Canal; while other states show a very low per capita debt, for Oregon it being only $0.04; for Kansas, $0.14; for Iowa, $0.16; for New Jersey, $0.24; while for Pennsylvania it is nothing, since in that state the sinking fund assets exceed the total debt.

RAISES MANY APPLES

(By United Press.)
 Columbus, O., July 31.—The Ohio apple is coming back to its glory. The state has met and conquered the apple scab and San Jose scale which played havoc with apple crops in Ohio for the last 50 years. Now there is no reason why apple orchards should not thrive. New orchards are being planted. Old ones are being reclaimed. There is money in apple raising, state experts declare and Ohio, they say, is destined to become once more a great state for apples.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DR. HURTY GIVES SOME FIGURES

Appeals to Business Man Showing That Better Health Means Better Business and Lower Taxes

CONSUMPTION PREVENTABLE

Better Employ Hygiene Than Induce Factories to Locate in Town is His Advice.

(Dr. Hurty tells in the following stories some facts regarding preventable disease in Indiana. Tomorrow he will give his ideas of what Indiana should do to prevent disease, suggesting a simple and comparatively inexpensive remedy. Editor's note.)

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—

"When business men finally see that instead of contributing thousands to induce factories to come to their towns they should contribute to and insist upon the employment of hygiene to bring better health, then with better health will come lower taxes." With that statement Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner sums up his doctrine of "Better Health—Lower Taxes" in his appeal to the business man for aid. Dr. Hurty wrote the following for the United Press:

BY DR. J. N. HURTY
 (State Health Commissioner)

All will admit that health is the great source of wealth and happiness. Can greater health be secured? First, to those who might say, "Our health is pretty good, I hear little complaint," I will present a few authentic figures and facts.

Consumption is a preventable disease, and yet—we have in Indiana 25,000 sick at all times with consumption, and 4,500 die annually of the disease. Pneumonia is a preventable disease, and yet we have 30,000 cases and 4,000 deaths annually in Indiana from this cause. Typhoid Fever is a preventable disease, and yet we have annually in Indiana 26,000 cases and 1,000 deaths from this nasty malady. Typhoid is called nasty because we must eat or drink human excrement to get it.

Diphtheria is a preventable disease, and yet we have annually in Indiana 20,000 cases and 400 deaths. Infantile Diarrhoea, cholera infantum, etc., are preventable yet we have annually in Indiana 150,000 cases and 3,000 deaths. The story of sickness is itself sickening, for in addition to what has been told above, think of whether preventable maladies, which plague us, as scarlet fever, whooping cough, colds, measles dyspepsia, influenza, eczema, head-aches, biliousness, coughs, catarrh, neurasthenia, constipation, trachoma, rheumatism, worms, and heaven knows how many more. All of these are actually coaxed to enter our bodies. They do not come unbidden. Then, after they have accepted our invitation to be our guest, we try to evict them with drugs. The cost of the foolishness in happiness, lives and in money, is enormous; indeed it is enough to pay several times over the whole cost of government.

Some day business men will see that preventable sickness is a great obstruction to business. When business men finally do see this fact, instead of contributing thousands to induce factories to come to their towns, they will contribute to and insist upon the employment of hygiene to bring better health. Then with better health will come lower taxes, will come greater wealth and greater happiness.

SUBMIT REPORTS.

The township trustees were making their annual reports today to County Superintendent C. M. George. The reports are in the nature of a financial statement and a statistical report. The reports are due August 1, but all had not been received.

RELATION OF WAR CRISIS

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 1.—President Wilson this afternoon said in opening his conference with western railroad managers that he made his appeal "because of an abnormal situation." He said the administration is trying to develop a merchant marine at present to accommodate the demands of imports from Europe and that should the western railroads be involved in a strike the efforts would fail and commerce would not be moved.

It was announced a strike of all engineers and firemen on the western railroads will be called Friday, August 7 unless President Wilson induces the railroads tomorrow to accept the terms of arbitration by the national board of conciliation. This was the first of a report today by the men representing the employees.

Attends Friday Night's Session of Milroy Chautauqua

GIVEN BIG DEMONSTRATION

The first chautauqua at Milroy will close tomorrow night with an address by Judge James A. Collins, former police judge of Indianapolis. He will also speak tomorrow afternoon. The subject of the night address is "The Other Half."

Yesterday and last night was Greensburg day at the chautauqua. At least forty automobiles from Greensburg made the trip to Milroy last evening and the people received a big demonstration. The trip was made under the auspices of the Greensburg Merchants' association and incidentally quite a lot of boosting for Greensburg was done.

Large crowds have been in attendance at all the sessions and the chautauqua has proven a success.

A marriage license was issued afternoon to Henry G. Wilson and Jeanette M. Bullard.

Chautauqua Offers Opportunity to Advertise Whole Community

The Chamber of Commerce today issued the following concerning the chautauqua:

Our Chautauqua was not organized, nor is it maintained, as a mere advertisement. But there is no better opportunity to advertise our community than through this splendid institution. Not only by the splendid display of talent, not only by the week of rest and recreation, but the spirit of our citizens who attend, can we make our good name spread throughout this region.

Were you ever in the west? Do you remember how astonished you were from the first by the hearty good fellowship of the Westerners? It is so easy to get acquainted. They do not shut themselves up in a shell and ignore the rest of the world. They speak to everybody, and talk readily, and are always glad to see each other and to see strangers. It is a spirit worthy of emulation.

Why not be as free and as hearty as they? Let us relax from our conservatism, and constantly extend the hand of fellowship to all we see there. Smile, and greet people. Talk to them. Take the initiative, even in mere acquaintanceships. The more sociable you are, the better we shall be remembered. Chautauqua is no place to take a grouse. Be ready with greetings; get talkative; go out of your way to be pleasant and helpful. You can advertise Rushville without cost, and enjoy it more at the same time.

We are told that even the speakers who have been here have told of the attentions they have received. They have been met at the stations, helped in finding accommodations, carried in automobiles and carriages to and from the park, and been treated as guests rather than as mere exhibitors, and the reputation of our Chautauqua management has been extended to all places where Chautauquas are held. That is the best kind of advertisement. We can make ourselves known as a people the same way.

Let us be pleasant, agreeable, willing to get acquainted and talk. Let us imbibe the true Chautauqua spirit. Let us be orderly and quiet. Let us advertise the best quality we can have—the spirit of helpfulness and sociability. We have the goods; let us advertise.
